

Jim Bagwell
BSIE Tennessee Tech

From Cedar Hill, Tennessee, Jim Bagwell received the BSIE in 1981 and began his industrial engineering career with Procter and Gamble in Cape Girardeau, Missouri. Jim left Procter and Gamble in 1994 to join Actinic, Inc., a high technology startup coatings company, in Greensboro, North Carolina. As vice president he continues to use his engineering, business and management skills to support his customers and the business.

Jim is actively involved in community activities that include serving as an elder in the First Presbyterian Church. He is a member of Kiwanis where he has served and chaired the ACC Scholar Athlete recognition luncheon, a fundraiser for the Make-a Wish Foundation. He has served on the board of the Childcare Ministry nonprofit organization that serves foster children. He has volunteered for Habitat for Humanity for 15 years.

Jim believes that the education he received at Tennessee Tech is the best investment he has ever made.
